National Security Writing Solutions

Strengthening Defense Education and Leadership Readiness

WHO WE WORK WITH

Defense education institutions and federal training programs developing the next generation of DoW and civilian leaders. We provide students with the skills needed to create executive-level briefings and communication strategies in senior federal government environments.

WHAT WE DO

Livian designs custom modules and workshops (2-hour or 4-hour formats) that teach written and oral communication techniques drawn directly form real-world national security experience. Students learn how to effectively communicate, enabling them to move into senior roles to brief, persuade, manage, and lead.

2 HOUR MODULE
Focused instruction designed for targeted communication skills and executive briefing techniques.

4-HOUR WORKSHOP
Extended instruction for deeper practice across written, oral, and decision-focused communication.

WHO WE WORK WITH

01 Develop persuasive decision-focused briefings tailored to senior policymakers.

02 Synthesize complex data and policy issues into evidence-based narratives.

03 Distill technical or analytic findings into actionable, mission-relevant takeaways.

04 Apply national security communication tradecraft; clarity, brevity, precision

05 Present assessments that frame “what happened,” “why it matters,” and “what’s next.”

STUDENTS WILL LEARN TO

STRATEGIC MINDSET
Communicate with the strategic mindset of national security professionals.

ELEVATOR BRIEFINGS
Emphasize key messaging and why it is important.

DIVERSE AUDIENCES
Frame complex issues from operational commanders to senior executives.

LEADERSHIP READINESS
Strengthen readiness through concise, strategic communications.
